Dear Colleagues,

To say these are challenging times is an understatement. Your lives, and the lives of those you serve, have been upended in ways that none of us could have imagined.

With fear and anxiety at an all-time high, understanding the Integrated Experience, recognizing the stages of an escalating crisis, and knowing how to respond is empowering. Perhaps more than ever before, your staff needs CPI training, and those in your care need the empathetic, person-centered approach that our training promotes.

We understand that training in the current environment isn't easy. That's why we've launched virtual training solutions, so that you can stay current with our training while experiencing the possibilities of a live virtual classroom. While hesitant at first (even the most experienced trainers get nervous!) our Global Professional Instructor team has embraced this new form of training. And we have new blended solutions that make it easier: NCI™ 2nd Edition, Verbal Intervention™, and our new Specialized Renewal: Trauma. We're back on the road with classroom trainings for restrictive interventions with heightened safety protocols designed to keep everyone safe.

You've made it clear that you need more support to figure out how to train during the pandemic, so we've added a series of resources to MyAccount for guidance. We've adapted all of our classroom de-escalation activities for virtual learning, made videos of disengagements and holds available, and shared our best practices for safe classroom training and competency assessment.

Earlier this year we launched our Insight Panel (insightspanelcpi.com) initiative, and we've gotten great feedback that we're using to make our solutions and support even better. Now, we'd love to hear from you!

In closing, thanks for all you do. We are humbled to support you, and are grateful for the value you provide to your staff and your communities.

Sincerely,

Susan Driscoll
President, CPI
